Keiser University Announces the Grand Opening of the New Miami Campus

This campus first opened in 2001 with nine students and has grown to 1,000

Miami, Florida—March 30, 2011— Keiser University’s Miami campus, formerly located in Kendall, will be holding its grand opening on Wednesday, March 30, 2011 at 6 p.m. The new three-story, 90,000 square foot campus is located at 2101 NW 117 Ave in Miami. Tours of the campus will take place before and after the ceremony.

This campus, which offers degrees in key workforce areas such as the S.T.E.M. (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics) fields, brings an improved learning environment to the South Florida higher education community. The many technological advantages at this new facility will help to more effectively serve the needs of the student population at the Miami campus.

“We are extremely pleased to have worked with Procacci Development Corporation on constructing a facility that will allow this campus to expand its high-demand program offerings in order to continue serving the community and its employers,” said Dr. Arthur Keiser, Chancellor of Keiser University.

Keiser University, a leader in workforce education offers degrees in high-demand fields including health care, business, computer technology and criminal justice disciplines. In order to continue providing a state of the practice learning environment for the students, the new campus is equipped with modern medical labs including a dissection/microbiology lab, computer labs and a fully computerized auditorium that can seat over 100 people. The building also has full wireless technology. Aside from the new building, the new Miami campus also has a three-story parking garage with 140,000 square feet.

“Procacci Development Corporation congratulates Keiser University on the opening of their campus in Miami-Dade County within Crossroads at Dolphin Commerce Center. We are proud to be a part of this bold investment in South Florida’s education,” said Philip J. Procacci, CEO and the property’s developer. “This convenient location and its accessibility will provide opportunities to many residents during a time of great need.”
