Keiser University’s Online Division Is Granted Full Accreditation for Bachelor’s Degree in Nursing

Ft. Lauderdale, FL – June 7, 2011 – The Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education (CCNE) has granted accreditation to the Bachelor’s of Science in Nursing program (RN to BSN) for Keiser University’s Online Division. The university has held regional accreditation with the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools since 1991. With the approval of the Commission on Collegiate Nursing Education, which ensures the quality and integrity of baccalaureate, graduate, and residency programs in nursing, Keiser University nursing graduates have another competitive edge in their employability in the nursing field.

“Achieving this milestone for the Online Division is a victory for our current and future students who have been anxious to be able to receive their Bachelor’s in Nursing degree online,” stated Sherry Olsen, Senior Vice President of Keiser University’s Online Division. “This will be great for our military students who are Registered Nurses and want to pursue their Bachelor’s degree.”

Keiser University’s Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing (RN to BSN) is designed as a degree completion program for registered nurses. It emphasizes critical thinking, leadership, management, research, physical assessment, and health promotion across a variety of community-based healthcare settings. The curriculum provides registered nurses with a better understanding of the cultural, political, economic, and social issues that affect patients and influence healthcare delivery through both online classroom and clinical components.
