Fort Lauderdale, FL—April 7, 2008—Keiser University extended its global community outreach this week by donating 10 computers to the Bahamas National Allied Cadet Program in Nassau and providing two Bahamian students full-tuition scholarships to the university. In a ceremony designated as Keiser University Day at H. O. Nash Junior High School, Keiser University Chancellor Arthur Keiser, Ph.D. presented the computers and the scholarships. Carl Bethel, Bahamian Minister of Education and Dr. Hubert Minnis, Bahamian Minister of Health were in attendance.

“As Keiser University continues to broaden our commitment to educating students globally, it is a privilege to partner with deserving and ambitious students from the Bahamas, providing them much needed technology and scholarships to pursue higher education,” stated Arthur Keiser, Ph.D.

The scholarships have a combined value of approximately $60,000 and were presented to Jamelle Pinder majoring in Medical Lab Technology and Pamela White majoring in Health Services Administration.

The Public Hospitals Authority (PHA) of the Bahamas established the National Allied Cadet program in order to replenish its workforce in the allied health field. The Ministries of Education and Health realized the benefits of this program and made it a national initiative. This partnership with the PHA is a perfect fit for Keiser University, which in 2007, was the United States’ leading producer of Associate of Science degree graduates in Health Professions and Related Sciences according to a Community College Week analysis of U. S. Department of Education data released in July 2007.

In appreciation of Keiser University’s continued interest, scholarship opportunities and support of the Allied Cadet Program housed at H. O. Nash Junior High, the school’s computer lab was renamed the Keiser University Computer Lab.

About Keiser University:
Keiser University, Florida’s leading private, statewide provider of career-focused, post-secondary education is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. Keiser University serves approximately 13,000 students at its 13 campuses throughout the State of Florida and through the online division.

Keiser University offers master’s, bachelor’s and associate degrees in high demand career fields meeting workforce and economic development needs in the communities we serve.