Student Voice

Do you like to write?? Do you have a story to share?? Would you like to be more involved on campus??

KU has launched the Eagles Landing Student Edition (ELSE)! This is a forum for students to feature their ideas or thoughts on topics facing college students. Some ideas are sharing study tips, writing about a teacher/class that made a lasting impression, discussing your community involvement or with the holidays upon us, a touching family story.

Also if you are interested in having a voice on campus, come join Student Government!

We would also love to feature your thoughts in the gazette. For more information please stop by Student Services.
