FROM THE DESK OF DEAN BENSON:

Welcome back Seahawks!

I hope you had a restful and enjoyable winter break. As we embark on a new semester, I wanted to share some tips to help you achieve success and make the most of your college experience.

Set Clear Goals: Start by setting academic and personal goals for the semester. Having clear objectives will keep you focused and motivated.

Stay Organized: Use a planner or digital calendar to keep track of important dates, assignments, and exams. Staying organized will help you manage your time effectively.

Attend Classes Regularly: Make it a priority to attend all your classes. Active participation and engagement are key to understanding the material and performing well.

Seek Help When Needed: Don't hesitate to ask for help if you're struggling with a subject. Utilize campus resources like tutoring sessions, study groups, and office hours with professors.

Maintain a Healthy Balance: While academics are important, it's also crucial to take care of your physical and mental health. Make time for exercise, hobbies, and social activities.

Stay Connected: Build relationships with your peers, professors, and advisors. Networking can provide support, guidance, and opportunities for growth.

Stay Positive and Resilient: Challenges are a part of the learning process. Stay positive, be resilient, and don't be afraid to adapt your strategies if needed.

Develop Good Study Habits: Find a study routine that works best for you. This might include studying in short, focused sessions, taking regular breaks, and reviewing your notes regularly. We hold regular academic seminars to help with studying techniques and habits — Seahawkinars. Look for these announcements in class and in Blackboard.

Get Involved on Campus: Join clubs and organizations that interest you. Getting involved can help you make new friends, develop new skills, and enhance your college experience.

Practice Self-Care: Make sure to get enough sleep, eat nutritious meals, and take time to relax and recharge. Self-care is essential for maintaining your overall well-being.

Stay Informed: Keep up with campus news and events. Being informed about what's happening on campus can help you take advantage of opportunities and stay connected with the college community.

Manage Stress: Learn and practice stress management techniques such as deep breathing, meditation, or yoga. Managing stress effectively can improve your focus and productivity.

Set a Budget: College life can be expensive. Create a budget to manage your finances and avoid unnecessary stress. Look for student discounts and ways to save money.

Be Proactive: Take charge of your education by being proactive. This includes seeking out internships, attending career fairs, and exploring opportunities that align with your career goals.

Reflect and Adjust: Periodically reflect on your progress and adjust your strategies as needed. Being flexible and open to change can help you overcome obstacles and stay on track.

Remember, every student's journey is unique. Find what works best for you and don't be afraid to seek support when needed. Here's to a successful and fulfilling semester!

A Financial Reset for 2025

CONTRIBUTED BY: Geoff Stam, Director Default Management and Financial Wellness, Office of the Chancellor

Hello 2025! While we set our financial sights on a new year, we continue to see everything from eggs, to gasoline, to clothing, to our electric bill cost us more money. Our dollar seems to cover less and less. With that in mind, how do we make the money we have stretch further?

It's time to re-evaluate and reset our budget. We don't necessarily have to cut out or down on everything we do, but where can we make some adjustments to make sure everything we need to cover financially is handled.

Wondering where to start? Begin with the Short-Term Financial Goals. These goals typically are less complicated to complete and generally more manageable. Anything from saving for an emergency fund, paying down a credit card or other debt, saving for a special item, or making sure you are breaking-even at the end of the month/budgeting period. Your goals depend on your personal (family) financial status. Create these goals with the SMART principles in mind to set you on your path.

The SMART principles: Specific – very clearly defined; Measurable – has checkpoints to show progress; Attainable – a goal that you can complete and is not out of reach; Relevant – goal is yours (and your family's) and important to your financial health; Time-Framed – you set a time to complete it (3 months, 6 months, 12 months).

Next, determine your income, identify expenses (ALL of them), and create a simple budget. This is your roadmap to completing your financial objectives. View your budget as a guide to your money and not a restrictive document. A way for you to tell your money what to do versus wondering what happened to it all. But don't forget to treat yourself (even if it's a small treat) within your budget. Your short-term goals should drive this budget.

If you've never created a budget before, it might be frustrating initially and the first attempt may not be successful, and that's okay. If you learn from the mistakes and apply them to the next budget, it will be more effective. Plus, there are plenty of FREE tools available to take advantage of that can assist you along the way.

It's not a document set in stone, it will change and refine itself over time. The more you use it, the more effective the budget will become, and you will see your goals nearing completion.

Here are some sites to help:

<https://www.google.com/sheets/about/>
<https://mint.intuit.com/>
<https://goodbudget.com/>
<https://www.rocketmoney.com/>
<https://www.ramseysolutions.com/everydollar/budgeting>
<https://portal.iontuition.com>

Focus on the positive that comes from any of the financial goals you have achieved! Don't let your mistakes to stop you from trying to realize financial success, learn from them.

Every goal you reach will help you move on to the next goal and the next. With some work, determination, and perseverance, you can make 2023 a financial success!

Attention Student Loan Borrowers!

If you hold federal direct unsubsidized loans, interest will start to accrue on those loans from the time they are disbursed. Federal direct subsidized loans will continue to have interest paid by the federal government while you remain a student above ½ time (in-school deferment) or are on a deferment period such as grace period.

Please register for the free website <https://portal.iontuition.com> to track your loans; know your servicer, review interest rates and accrual as it restarts, understand repayment plans/options, as well as deferment, forbearance, and consolidation.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions or need additional assistance. I can be reached at (904) 238-3099, or gstam@keiseruniversity.edu.

MICRO-INTERNSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Q. "What are micro-internships?"

A. "Micro-internships are short-term (usually between 10 - 40 hours), often remote, paid projects, working for real companies."

Keiser University provides the opportunity for our students to apply for short-term, professional, paid work experiences through Parker Dewey Micro-Internships.

Through these short-term, paid, project-centered experiences, you can demonstrate your skills, and expand your professional network.

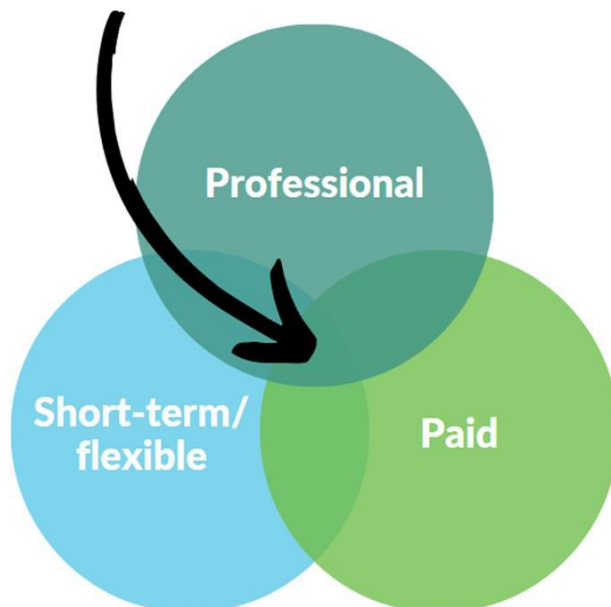

Unlike a traditional internship, these paid opportunities typically range from 10 to 40 hours of work and are deadline-driven as opposed to set during specific hours - perfect for students with erratic or hectic schedules!

Not only does this help the companies across various industries and departments who are looking for skills like yours, but it also allows you to get real-world experience and network with professionals. Additionally, by engaging these companies early in your college career, you can make yourself a more experienced and appealing candidate for future internship and career opportunities.

To learn more and start applying, visit <https://info.parkerdewey.com/keiseruniversity/students> and create a profile.

We encourage you to have your resume reviewed via College Central Network before applying for an internship. For additional information, please call or stop by Student Services.
