To Whom It May Concern:

The Greater Miami Society for Human Resource Management is a professional association of Human Resources practitioners throughout Miami-Dade County. We provide educational programming and professional development to our members.

Keiser University has been extremely supportive of our mission by generously providing classrooms to accommodate our programs. Over the last six years, we have conducted at least 50 sessions at Keiser. The staff has always ensured that the rooms are set up as needed and have been available to assist as needed. We have also used the catering services for some of our programs, and the food has always been well received by our attendees.

As GMSHRM is a non-profit organization, we strive to deliver programs to our members at a reasonable cost. Thanks to Carmen Perez-Padron and her team, our members have been able to improve their skills and knowledge at a convenient location and professional environment.

Thank you,
