To Whom It May Concern:

I have the pleasure of regular interaction with Keiser University through Marianne Brawer and her ongoing support of community organizations and events. Most recently, Keiser's support of our Pasco Aging Network – Boots and Bling event grew from a sponsorship commitment to encouraging fellow employees to attend and other fellow employees donating baskets for our auction. I saw first-hand the Keiser family embracing an organization and supporting through various initiatives not because they were 'told' to but because of a belief and support for their community.

It is this type personal commitment, a family embracing another organizations family, which speaks volumes for the culture of Keiser University.

Thank you for being an integral member of the community and thank you for sharing Marianne Brawer. As the face of Keiser, she truly represents you well!
