Dear Dennis,

Gateway Orlando, formerly, Semoran Business Partnership, was founded in 2010, as part of the City of Orlando's Main Street Program. In fact, Keiser University was one of the founding members, of our organization.

Through the years we have partnered with Keiser to host community events, meetings and serve in leadership positions on our board. The over 700 businesses located along the Semoran Corridor engage with Gateway Orlando and Keiser University to promote educational awareness and provide places for students and faculty to shop and eat. The campus partners with local churches, charities and schools in reading and other academic programs to prepare younger students to take advantage of higher education opportunities in the future.

The Annual Trunk 'O Treat jointly hosted with us, draws over 1,000 residents, many that may become future students of the University. The parents and children interact with staff and visit the campus on this day. This event also involves elected officials, serving in various capacities throughout the evening. Their support is an example of how important Keiser is to the entire community. The University is highly respected and a corner stone of the Semoran Corridor.

We greatly value this relationship and look forward to future opportunities to help Keiser grow their student enrollment, as we continue to expand our reach throughout the city!

Sincerely,
