To Whom It May Concern,

Keiser University is important to our community for a multitude of reasons. I was first introduced to Keiser University in 2013 when I met Violeta Huesman, the Director of Student Services in Sarasota. I was working at Visible Men Academy, an all boys charter school located in Bradenton, FL. She had met our Head of School Neil Phillips, and wanted to introduce herself, and donate some school supplies her students had collected. This was in 2013, and Keiser University has been a faithful supporter ever since.

Our school was started in 2013, and one of our first hires was our Kindergarten Teacher who is a Keiser University grad. I am happy to say, she is still employed by our school, and continues to be one of our strongest teachers. She is professional, thorough, and detail oriented. She is well liked by her peers, and parents. Every year we can count on Keiser to support our students with school supplies, T-shirts, backpacks, and of course their branded pens which we use for our fundraising events!

Recently I had the privilege of being invited to the Keiser University's 40th Anniversary. It was a beautiful celebration that included the who's who of the community! I was so impressed with the outpouring of love and community support shown to Keiser University and the diversity the event brought. It was a clear example of how Keiser University not only educates, but brings people together!

Keiser University is a well- lauded staple in this community that continues to produce great graduates, and gives back.

Sincerely,

Dawnyelle Singleton
