To whom it may concern,

It is with great pleasure that I send this letter in representation of America Publicidad to share our relationship with Keiser University. I am a member of the Keiser University Advisory Board because Marco Iraheta, a student at Keiser University, has been working with us since 2020. We have seen great things from him and he has expressed a great amount of praise towards his professors at Keiser University. The values that I feel Keiser University has provided to the community are Christian values, honesty, punctuality, spirit of service, and collaboration.

America Publicidad has been in the market for 29 years and has had the opportunity of welcoming Keiser University's graduates as part of our team, where they have showcased their professionalism, organizational skills, time management and productivity. We would hire other Keiser University students/graduates because of the values they are taught, their commitment, and determination.

Our collaborative partnership has allowed us to enrich lives and benefit our business by increasing our productivity with new and innovative ideas; by updating the tools needed for our business, and by rejuvenating the workplace with their attitude and enthusiasm.

Thank you,

Cecilia de Buendia
