

To Whom It May Concern,

Keiser University is important to our community because they are providing education to future Radiologic Technologist. Keiser's students are ready to join the workforce as soon as they graduate. We have hired several graduates from Keiser University. I have enjoyed working with all of the instructors and forming professional relationships with them. Having the Keiser students at our facility had helped our department's flow and patient care. Our hospital has been in our community for 35 years. We have had students from several different colleges and Keiser is one of the best. We have several hospitals through the country. I will hopefully being hiring another Keiser student within the next month after he graduates.
