Re: Keiser Support for Compassionate Care Hospice

To: Whom It May Concern,

Compassionate Care Hospice has had the pleasure of working with Keiser University since October of 2019. Our point of contact has been Student Services Coordinator, Mr. Brian Miller. With exceptional gratitude, Mr. Miller has been kind enough to post our volunteer positions with student's that are either getting a degree in nursing or hospital administration.

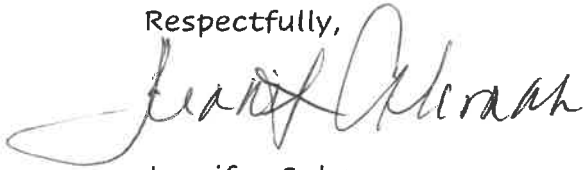

The ongoing relationship that we have with Keiser University has benefited us in such an important way, that it is almost difficult to explain in simple terms. The student's that come to us from Keiser referral's go to college either part or full time, have full or part time jobs and a family, yet still devote two to five hours a week of their precious time for our hospice patients. All of us has had to deal with the impact of Covid-19, yet it did not prevent the student's from coming to Compassionate Care Hospice during this terrible pandemic. If anything, Keiser University staff even got together during the holidays, to hand make Thanksgiving and Christmas cards for our patients. The cards were so meaningful to our patients, since most of the facilities were on lock down, and could not even see their family members face to face for months at a time.

Compassionate Care Hospice is currently the third largest Hospice provider in the United States. We try our best to match the right volunteer with the patients' needs. The volunteers that were provided through Keiser University have been caring, professional, motivated, driven, exceptionally organized. Most importantly, they are selfless. Most of our volunteers come from Keiser University, and that is a testament to the caliber of people that work or go to college there.

We hope to continue our professional and wonderful relationship, that we have established with Keiser University. I would highly recommend them in any capacity. It has truly been a pleasure working with Mr. Bran Miller and Keiser University, and we cannot thank them enough for posting our need for volunteers, and sending us such kind hearted individual's, who stand out and bring such joy to our hospice patient's, that usually have six months or less to live. Each one of them have a special place in our hearts, and most importantly, to our patients and their perspective family members.
