To Whom It May Concern –

The Manatee Chamber of Commerce, with approximately 2,000 businesses and organizations investing as members, is grateful to Keiser University for its involvement with the Chamber and, more importantly, the role the University plays in workforce development. Over its more than 43-year history, Keiser University has educated students in key industries like accounting, business, criminal justice, culinary arts, education, nursing, public safety, and more.

The Manatee-Sarasota region benefits by Keiser University, its leadership, and its students getting engaged in our community and supporting many worthwhile causes. University leaders help the Chamber drive our mission of building a positive business environment and enhancing our community's quality of life. The University also opens its doors to local businesses and our community, which is a win-win for students and local employers. A business's greatest asset is its people and Keiser University's graduates make an impact in our local workforce.

Sincerely,
