To Whom it may concern,

As a very busy staffing agency the resources and that Keiser University of Melbourne provides such as internships and job fairs, and the quality graduates that they produce is incredibly valuable to us.

The staffing industry is continuously evolving and changing and post secondary education that is aligned with the needs of business provides students with the right knowledge and soft skills that will allow them to be successful when working with our clients. Since Manpower has been in Brevard County for 27 years and in central Florida for over 50, we have greatly appreciated how Keiser University has grown and evolved to meet the need of business.

Keiser's success appears to be driven in part from the local business community input. Allowing talent demands to drive programs is the secret sauce to providing top talent that meets the needs of business and ultimately benefits the graduates by improving their income potential, closing the circle of critical need.

While in another role we did host and intern from Keiser University's Melbourne Campus and found her to be professional, prepared, highly organized and productive in the work environment with minimal direction almost immediately. I am most eager to begin working with an intern here in our Manpower Office as soon as possible.

We are always delighted to hire and place Keiser University Graduates!

Sincerely,

Deborah Ballard MA OD
