To Whom It May Concern,

Keiser University is a phenomenal asset to our community. Over the past few years, I have seen incredible growth with the Health and Human Performance program.

As an externship site, I have had the pleasure working with a number of students in giving them the practical experience in personal training and nutrition coaching. Dr. Fairall and Mrs. Hartman have done an exceptional job in pairing students with the most appropriate externship site.

Being a personal trainer can be seen as a "side job" or "gig" when in fact it is a career for most. Some take being a personal trainer lightly and assume it is easy to "tell people to exercise". The fact is it takes more than knowing exercises to train others. It takes the theory learned in the classroom along with organizational skills, time management, and passion. The students I have had the opportunity to mentor have not only possessed these skills but have also demonstrated true professionalism and strong work ethics.

As my company continues to grow, I would be honored to hire a graduate from Keiser University. The caliber of students that come from the Health and Human Performance program are excellent. I look forward to having these young professionals as my colleagues and seeing their growth and contribution to the fitness industry. I appreciate the opportunity to be a community partner with Keiser University and I look forward to seeing the program flourish.

Sincerely,
