Dear Dr. Keiser,

Please accept this letter as feedback regarding our ongoing relationship with Keiser University, Port St. Lucie campus. As the lead Dietitian at Genesis Care, USA (formerly South Florida Radiation Oncology/ 21st Century Oncology), I have had the pleasure of the partnership with Keiser University. In this partnership I have enjoyed both of my roles, as preceptor for several of your dietetic interns as well as a member of the academic advisory board for Dietetics and Nutrition. Our partnership dates to 2016 and in that period I have hired several of your former interns for our oncology clinics which cover all of southeast Florida.

As a preceptor, I have found the interns to be exceptionally productive and motivated; they come to our site with excellent foundational knowledge and a passion for the field. Hence, they make the best candidates for the job when we are in the process of hiring; we have never been disappointed with any new hire. As evidence of excellent training in their Keiser internship, they come to the position well-qualified and prove to be an asset to our medical clinics, providing excellent nutritional care in performing assessment and intervention for our adult oncology patients. Our position requires dietitians that use evidence-based medicine, exhibit superb people skills in their teaching and counseling and join us in innovation for medical-nutritional care. Our dietitians are required to adapt to a variety of clinics and staff as well as keep current on clinical information in a rapidly changing field.

We are again this year prepared to take dietetic interns and look forward to providing an enriching environment for their future career. We recently hired another Keiser intern and are currently in the process of interviewing for an immediate position. Because of the success we have had with former Keiser interns and my confidence in their education at the Port St. Lucie campus, three Keiser interns have been sought for application and have expressed interest.

As a member of your academic advisory board for Dietetics and Nutrition, I have been consistently impressed with the responsiveness of your academic dietitians to the advisory board input. I am proud to serve on a board that so carefully assesses their educational progress and persists in achieving the highest of professional standards.

Sincerely yours,

Cynthia Collins, Ph.D., R.D., LD/ N
