

Master of Science in Clinical Nutrition – Coordinated Program

Estimated Costs

In addition to the university tuition, which is found in the Keiser University Undergraduate Catalog and Keiser University Graduate Catalog, students are responsible for the following costs.
keiseruniversity.edu/catalog

Academy of Nutrition and Dietetics Membership	$50 annually throughout the program
Undergraduate scrubs/lab coats	$32 per set of scrubs (top and pants) $26 for hip length lab jacket
Level II Background Checks	$60 (one on admission and one in month 15 of the program)
ACHA Live scan Fingerprinting	$88 (required in month 15 of the program)
Drug Screening – 10 Panel	$80 (required in month 15 of the program)
Medical Exam with titers, flu shot, and vaccinations	Variable with $300 minimum (required in month 15 of the program)
App for document tracking	$60.00 annually
Textbooks and supplies	Variable based on form of textbook (hard copy or digital) and whether the student buys or rents the textbook
Transportation to supervised practice sites	Travel to and from supervised practice sites is at the student's expense and varies with the supervised practice site locations. Clinical coordinators make every effort to avoid driving distances greater than 50 miles for students
Required software purchase	EHR GO software - $120 for one-year subscription (required in month 9 of the program)
RDN credentialing exam fee	$200.00
Florida Licensure by Endorsement (Graduate has passed the RD/RDN Exam)	Exam Application Fee (non-refundable) $80.00 Endorsement Application Fee (non-refundable) $85.00 Licensure Fee (refundable) $80.00 Unlicensed Activity Fee (refundable) $5.00
Temporary FL permit fee (only if requesting a permit - optional)	$50.00

Additional costs for some students: some supervised practice sites may require additional drug testing, vaccinations, titers, and background checks. These would also be at the student's expense.